

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Memory's Face.

They had not met for forty years, And they looked each other over To find one trace of the merry face That the childhood playmate wore; The golden hair was streaked with gray, The laughing lip firm set, The eye was dull, the form grown full, "How changed," they said, "and yet—"

They had not met for forty years, And they looked each other over There was scarcely a trace of the merry face That childhood playmate wore; The cheek was brown and in and old That used to be so sweet, And they did not know in the step so slow The tread of the boyish feet.

Saunders—Eubank.

The wedding of Miss Florence May Eubank, daughter of Mr. James Eubank, to Mr. David Wingfield Saunders, son of the late David J. Saunders, Jr., of Louisa county, took place at noon yesterday, in the home of the bride, the Rev. Robert J. Williamson officiating. The house was prettily decorated in palms and flowers, and the ceremony was witnessed by the families of the contracting parties. Mrs. Saunders, the mother of the groom, and his sister, Mrs. Everett Wadley, were among those present.

The bride came in with her brother, Mr. Charles Eubank. She was gown in white and carried a shower of bride roses. Congratulations followed the ceremony. Many beautiful wedding gifts gave evidence of the popular esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Saunders are held by their friends and relatives. They left by the 2 P. M. train for a Northern wedding tour, from which they will return to make their home in Charleston, West Va., where Mr. Saunders is established in business.

Delightful Musicals.

There was a most delightful entertainment given on Tuesday evening at the Cullen House, on Wayne Avenue, Waynesboro, Va. Much praise is due Miss Sjo Johanna, of Richmond, for it was she who was chiefly instrumental in arranging the soiree.

The entertainment opened with recitations by little Margaret Deane of Norfolk, and Miss Juliet Lee, of Richmond. Miss Lee recited a poem by Mr. Ernest Bolling, of Richmond, recently published in the Baltimore Sun. The vocal numbers were given by Mrs. Jeannette Fleet West, and the whistling number by Mr. W. W. Glass, of New Orleans, and Miss Martin, of Norfolk. Several humorous imitations by Mr. Riggan, of Louisville, Ky., deserve special mention. The words to Mr. Riggan's songs were written by his mother and were local hits upon the guests of the house.

Particular mention should be made of the piano forte selections by Miss Lucy Taylor, of Richmond, whose playing evidenced talent, and reflected credit on her herself and her teacher, Mr. Hahn. The ushers were Messrs. R. B. Wilcox, of Richmond, and J. L. Gaskdale, of Waynesboro. This is the full program:

Recitation, Little Margaret Deane; vocal, "The Rosary," Nevina, Mrs. Jeannette Fleet West; Cuban Dance Concert, Grottschalk, Mr. Bolling and son, Winston Bolling; vocal solo, words by Mrs. S. C. Riggan, Mr. G. Garland Riggan; recitation, When Panetelli Stars came, recitation, When Panetelli Stars came, solo for piano, selected, Miss Glass; Grottschalk, The Palms, Lyrbach; Marche the Funtre, Chopin, Miss Lucy Taylor; Under the Leaves, Thorne, Miss Virginia Martin; Valse de Concert, Bolling, Mr. E. L. Bolling.

Pretty Home Wedding.

On the evening of August 8th, "Oakland," near Halesford, Va., the home of Captain and Mrs. William B. Duncan, hosted the wedding of their daughter, Sallie W. Duncan, to Mr. Robert H. B. Keeney, of Spartanburg, S. C., the ceremony being performed by the Rev. J. S. Ligon.

The bridal party entered the parlor, which was tastefully decorated with potted plants, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Miss Julia Dechow.

The bride wore becomingly gowned in white tulle; the groom wore the conventional black.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom were escorted to the dining-room where elegant refreshments were served. The popularity of the contracting parties was attested by the numerous and valuable presents. Mr. Keeney left for their future home at Spartanburg, S. C., followed by the best wishes of a host of friends.

Party at Pleasance.

Misses Cassie and Nann Brooke Scott are entertaining a few friends at a house party in their charming home, "Pleasance," Raceford Ford, Va.

Amongst their guests are Miss Susie Berger, of Greenwood, Miss; Miss Katherine Jennings, of Culpeper; Mr. Dupre, of Washington; Assistant Paymaster Lewis L. N. Jennings, U. S. N., and Mr. N. G. Berger, of Greenwood, Miss.

Dances, boating, tennis, driving and moonlight parties are quite in vogue, and add much to the pleasure of all.

"Fair View" Party.

One of the most enjoyable house parties of the season is being given this week by Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Rees, of Fair View, Buena Vista, Va., in honor of Miss Margaret Virginia Rucker, of that place. The guests are Miss Rucker, Miss Margaret Witt, Miss Vixella Cunningham, of Buena Vista; Miss Marnie May Almond and Miss Belle Almond, of Lynchburg, Va.; Mr. Ashton C. Jones, of Hampton, Va.; Mr. W. A. Webb, of Lexington, Va.; Mr. A. L. Russell, of Newport News; Mr. E. E. Witt, of Richmond, and Mr. Henry Rees, of Buffalo Mills, Va.

The party attended the Monday night German at Buena Vista; have visited the Natural Bridge, and seen the sun rise on the peaks of Otter.

The young ladies composing the party were bridesmaids at the wedding of their hostess, who, before she became Mrs. Rees, was Miss Ella Rucker, of Buena Vista.

SONG.

By CHRISTINA G. ROSSETTI.

Other selections from this author, her portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

TWO doves upon the self-same branch,
Two lilies on a single stem,
Two butterflies upon one flower—
O, happy they who look on them!

Who look upon them hand in hand,
Flushed in the rosy summer light;
Who look upon them hand in hand
And never give a thought to night.

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, October 11, 1903. One is published each day.

Vista. The Rees home is an ideal place for a house party, and nothing is left undone that could contribute to pleasure or promote enjoyment.

Miss Rae Hessburg, No. 1005 West Franklin Street, returned yesterday from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Fink, at Mont Clair, N. J.

COOL WEATHER.

The Temperature Falls Locally. Thunder-Storms in the South.

The barometer pressure is highest on the north Pacific coast, in the Lake region, New England and middle Atlantic States, and in southern Florida, and it is lowest in South Dakota and in Arizona. A moderate area of low barometer appears to be central of the south Atlantic coast also. The temperatures have risen generally in Minnesota and in the northern portion of the New England States, fallen in Kansas and Oklahoma Territory, and in Virginia and North Carolina, and remain about stationary elsewhere. Precipitation has occurred during the past 24 hours along the Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida, in the south Atlantic and Southern

BOYS' AND GIRLS' GARDEN PRIZES

Civic Improvement League Offers Handsome Awards to School Children.

FLOWERS FROM T-D SEEDS

Send in Names and Addresses at Once to the Flower Editor.

In May The Times-Dispatch, in order to give the children of Richmond pleasure and to beautify the yards of the city residences, gave away packages of flower seeds to all the children who desired them. Hundreds of packages of seeds were distributed, and for an entire day the sidewalks in front of The Times-Dispatch business office on Main Street were crowded with small boys and girls, all eager to take advantage of the generosity of the paper that is always the friend of the children.

This all happened months ago, and now the children have gardens, where the seeds were planted. Every now and then some boy or girl has brought bouquets of flowers to The Times-Dispatch office to show "how the garden was growing."

The Prizes.

The Civic Improvement League now offers the following prizes:

(1) A prize of $5.00 for the child who has produced the best yard or garden from the flowers given by The Times-Dispatch.

(2) To the five children who have the next best yard or garden, grown from Times-Dispatch seeds, a prize of $2.00 will be awarded to each.

(3) To the ten children who have the next best yard or garden, grown from Times-Dispatch seeds, a prize of $1.00 will be awarded to each.

Besides these prizes, The Times-Dispatch will award books to others whose work in adding to beautify their homes and the city shall be adjudged worthy of such award.

Every child that desires to compete for these prizes must send in his or her name and address at once to the "Flower Editor," care Times-Dispatch, so that the Civic Improvement League committee will know where to go when it visits the gardens to determine who have won the prizes.

The Flower Editor urges the children not to delay, but to send in their names this very day, and then to go to work with renewed zeal in the gardens that may win the prizes.

Send the name and address, written plainly, to:

Flower Editor, Care Times-Dispatch, Richmond, Va.

DOG FOND OF CALF.

That is, Calf of Negro's Leg—Justice John's Long Line.

Mr. John O'Hagan has a dog with an appetite solely for the calf of a negro's leg. That dog will go blocks to get a taste of a negro. He has been known to leave his happy home and search for the calf of a negro.

Mr. O'Hagan was in Police Court yesterday morning in answer to a charge that he had allowed a vicious dog to run at large. The negro who made the complaint did not appear.

"What about it?" asked Crutchfield. "I keep the dog chained all the time, you know," said Mr. O'Hagan. "But he does love negro meat. I have known him to run out and try to bite negroes, and for this reason I keep him chained."

"That dog is a fool to bite a negro. One of these days he'll have hydrophobia. Keep him chained hereafter," said the Court, and Mr. O'Hagan departed.

"No," said Mr. John Baker, "snapped the man behind the desk. From out of the black cloud in the rear a short and stout specimen of the Bowery came before the bar."

"Charged with unlawfully biting one Bessie Smith? Did you bite that nigger?" The words came like solid shots from the compressed lips of the man who has always voted the Democratic ticket.

"Yes, sar, I tooken bite her er little. But her and me wants to compromise it now," said the speaker on humanity.

"Want to compromise? Compromise. Gimme the costs and I hope you'll have a bad taste in your mouth for twelve months," said the man, and both women went back.

Tom Palmer and Josephine Hope beat one Martha Mayo, and they were asked to contribute $10 each. They will spend their vacation by the placid waters of the beautiful Shocokee.

There was no evidence to prove that Lewis Paff had acted other than correct when he beat one Walter Lee Jenkins, and the case was dismissed.

Henry Thomas, a negro with a face that resembled the map of Korea, said he was "keeping down order" when he was cussing. "I'm keeping up order here. Gimme $2.00," pleadingly said Mr. Crutchfield.

Virginia Miller is a dusky woman from the headquarters of Duskyville. She had just a little spark of jealousy in her composition, and when Martha Trent, she of straight hair and yellow complexion, walked off with Virginia's fellow, there was trouble.

You two niggers got a feller! Get out of here, and if you come back again I'll put you both in jail, feller! Feller! I'll be enough to make Sam laugh."

John Palmer, a negro, listened to enough charges to warrant him in the belief that he was going to be hanged. He was charged with carrying concealed weapons, stealing the weapon that he concealed, and also of being a suspicious character. He had been in a place that did not have a good reputation with the police and made several purchases, and afterwards stole the revolver. There were extenuating circumstances and he was discharged.

Richard Mada, a young white man, charged with breaking and entering the home of Mr. Gilbert Clinton, No. 408 North Thirty-first Street, and stealing jewelry valued at $50, will have his case heard on the 26th.

Justice John Will Severely Deal With Any One Stealing Papers.

Linwood Clay, a white boy, caught stealing The Times-Dispatch from No. 4 North Ninth Street and also from E. A. Stump's, corner Eighth and Main Streets, was before Justice Crutchfield yesterday morning. Linwood was sent to the Reformatory.

Another boy, who was with Linwood Clay and assisted in taking The Times-Dispatch from the places named, has not been apprehended.

The two boys prepared to overcome any obstacle by providing themselves with a piece of wire about three feet long, and in a hook at one end and with a handle twisted on the other.

The Times-Dispatch carriers in delivering papers to subscribers often push the paper under the door, where there is room to do so, and the wire was brought into play to secure the papers. It had been pushed under the doors of the places from which they were stolen.

Just as you have been before me two or three times before," said the justice, "and it looks to me like you are going to be here again. As for the wire, as far as I can find out, you can't be controlled by anything or anybody, so this time I'm going to take it out of you and remove you from temptation. You must go to the Reformatory."

Justice Crutchfield said he intended that subscribers to The Times-Dispatch should be protected from petty thieves and the annoyance caused by their absolutions, not because I think The Times-Dispatch is so mighty valuable; it only costs two cents a copy; but because when a subscriber buys a paper, and it is delivered to him, it is the personal property of the subscriber, and he intends to punish every man and boy, white or colored, that is caught and brought before me.

Without doubt every subscriber of The Times-Dispatch is in full accord with this decision, and it is only necessary for subscribers to keep an eye on their paper, and if it is missing, to report it at the circulation department, active measures will at once be applied to every individual case.

The Times-Dispatch maintains a well-organized and complete carrier service and strives to make its delivery prompt and efficient delivery to every subscriber.

The manager of the circulation department is anxious to co-operate with any subscriber who suffers the annoyance of missing his paper by it being stolen, and if such subscriber will report it at the circulation department, active measures will at once be applied to every individual case.

DELEGATES NAMED.

Prominent Virginians to Attend Prison Association Conference.

Governor Montague yesterday designated the following delegates from Virginia to the annual congress of the National Prison Association, which is to meet in New York City, October 21-23: George H. Davis, Samuel M. Bolling, Dr. C. V. Carrington, Charles Hutzler, Richmond; the Rev. M. P. Picher, John W. Brantley, Petersburg; John L. Roper, Norfolk; J. L. Emmons, Laurel; C. E. Vawter, Crutcher; J. L. McLemore, Suffolk; E. H. J. T. Martin, Henrico county; W. A. Bowler, Staunton; Dr. W. B. Anderson, Farmville.

The Governor has also named delegates as follows to represent the State at the National Conference upon Immigration, to be held in New York City, December 6th and 7th, under the auspices of the National Civic Federation: W. H. Aston, Mandeville View; R. L. Dibble, Danville; Archer Anderson, Richmond; Lucken H. Cocke, Roanoke; Judge Theodore S. Garret, Norfolk; G. C. Bynum, Norfolk; C. Blackford, Lynchburg; C. W. Kolner, Richmond; Joseph Bryan, Richmond; James M. Quicke, Jr., Petersburg; R. H. Bosley, South Boston; W. H. Bond, Wise Courthouse; John W. Chalkley, Big Stone Gap, and A. Moore, Jr., Berryville.

GOES TO JURY.

William Bland "Sent On" for Killing Major Page.

William Bland, the negro who, on the 10th, shot and killed Major Page, another negro, was given a preliminary trial in the Police Court yesterday morning and held for the grand jury. He was represented by Captain George D. Wise.

The evidence was, in the most part, to the effect that the two men were playing at the time the revolver was discharged. But there was some evidence that Bland intended to shoot Page, and jury will have to decide on the matter.

Bland surrendered himself to Captain Hulce, of the Second District, yesterday afternoon.

Denounces City's Sin.

Wednesday night Rev. George H. Wiley preached an emphatic and startling sermon on the subject "Sin and Hell" at the tent meeting at Twenty and Grace Streets. He said that poverty forms no excuse for sin. It is just as important for the poor man to keep his living trust as for those more fortunately situated.

Rev. Mr. Wiley came out in a direct accusation that there are many people living in some form of willful sin, that they do not seek the most ordinary acts of honesty, and that in many cases their homes are more like hell than heaven.

It is said that three Richmond churches are considering the name of the same pastor, Rev. W. T. Ball, of Fulton Avenue Baptist Church, Bath, Me., who is a visitor in Richmond, and is highly delighted with the beauty of the Capital City of the Confederacy and the hospitality of its denizens.

Mr. Ball is now in Roanoke, visiting his parents. He is an alumnus of Richmond College and of the Southern Baptist Seminary, in Louisville. Mr. Ball is noted as a fine orator, and is said to be very popular among his congregation.

Dr. Stockman Here.

Dr. C. M. Stockman, of Portland, Me., who is a veteran of the Maine Infantry, is a visitor in Richmond, and is highly delighted with the beauty of the Capital City of the Confederacy and the hospitality of its denizens.

Mr. Ball is now in Roanoke, visiting his parents. He is an alumnus of Richmond College and of the Southern Baptist Seminary, in Louisville. Mr. Ball is noted as a fine orator, and is said to be very popular among his congregation.

Improvements to Church.

Arrangements are being made for elaborate changes and a thorough renovation of East End Baptist Church. The building will be raised and a basement fitted up under it. A pastor's study will be provided, infant classrooms, ladies' parlors and men's Bible classrooms. The interior and exterior will be painted and new news and upholstery will be put in the church.

Many Go to the Mountains.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company on yesterday morning ran the largest excursion ever run to the Virginia mountains. More than 100 persons filed the twelve cars, which were drawn by two engines. Mr. J. C. West, excursion agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, personally conducted the excursionists.

Dance in a Good Cause.

Dancing will be a most enjoyable feature of an entertainment for the relief of suffering sufferers from Cerebral Palsy to be given at Forest Hill Park Monday night, August 28th, by Mrs. Alice Miez. Tickets may be obtained for 50 cents at the residence of Mr. T. Davis, No. 507 Belvidere Street, and at Marston's drug store, on Pine Street.

Good for Fruit Growers.

The shortage of fruit in European, English and Canadian countries, and a large number of domestic fruit sections is proving a great bonus for the Virginia fruit growers. The State of Virginia is the only State in the Union having a full yield of fruit. The Virginia farms are being rapidly drained for exportation to Northern and foreign markets.

Will Sell Synagogue.

Judge Scott yesterday authorized the sale of the Beth Moses Montefiore congregation's synagogue in Mayo Street. The proceeds of the sale will go toward the fund being raised to purchase the Beth Ahaba Synagogue property.

Mr. Cowherd Here.

Mr. B. R. Cowherd, of Goodland, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Cowherd takes a deep interest in political matters, and is a warm supporter of Governor Montague for Senator.

He says he is confident the Governor will win, and that he will make a fine run in his session.

Mr. Lewis Talks.

Hon. J. M. Lewis, member of the House of Delegates from King and Queen and Essex, is in the city on private business. He is on his way to the State House for re-election to the House. He is a warm supporter of Governor Montague for the second time, and says the Governor will get fine majorities in his session.

Judge Watson Out.

Judge Walter A. Watson, of Nottingham, who has been sick at his summer home, near Forest Hill Park, has so far recovered as to be able to be out.

Judge Watson was on the streets of Richmond yesterday and was warmly congratulated by many of his friends here.

Scandal grows best in a soil of falsehood with a substratum of truth. It is greatly stimulated, as all plans are by having the soil constantly stirred. Buck
